Outlaw drug commercials, outlaw co-pay coupons," said Miller. And with that we should add that PBM clients have been getting mad at them lately. The reason I'm talking about Nexium is that I take the drug. This, Mitchell alleges, is what is going on with Nexium, a drug that has been off-patent for almost two years. While the Nexium or EpiPen story is not unique in healthcare today, PBMs are quick to refute claims that they are adding to the overall prices of expensive brand drugs with Rx rebates. Thomson Reuters Doughnut holes The real danger of taking Nexium, at least for millions of Medicare Part D patients, is that it can put them in something called a doughnut hole. For a while the surgery was enough to keep me comfortable, but as I've gotten older I've had to take Nexium every day. That means a drug company pays off a generic drugmaker in this case a company called Ranbaxy to get it to delay putting a generic version of their drug in the market. You can't talk to anyone. In , I had an invasive surgery to re-angle my stomach. These PBMs get paid a flat fee for managing programs, and also tend to be transparent about how much they make on drugs. In contrast, according to the FDA, the generic drug manufacturer must prove their drug is the same as, or bio equivalent to the brand name drug by measuring the amount of drug in the bloodstream and comparing that to the brand. Perhaps the biggest threat of all: He also frowns on the vertical integration going on in the industry. It's important to know that not all medications, brand name or generic, work the same for all patients, which is why it is important for healthcare providers and patients to determine the best treatment option on an individual basis. May 2, - For patients to receive Nexium at those prices, a doctor must submit a prior authorization -- and a reason why the drug is medically necessary -- through the Express Scripts doctor line, Tricare officials said.
